Who is in charge?

Who is really in charge of all that comes our way?

Is it us or some external, nebulous force?

Armed with free will, we come into each incarnation to learn lessons, work through karma, enhance soul growth and get a step closer to enlightenment.

The Law of Free Will, once understood, overrides the belief God has allowed certain things to happen. God allows each of us to come into physicality to experience and grow spiritually. This may include adverse conditions such as poverty, war, anguish and killing. We experience them all in order to learn from them all. Nothing real can be harmed and once the current play is over, we meet again to evaluate the lessons. Then we get to decide which part we will play next time.

So, now you may wonder why we don't just pick out the best awesome lives for ourselves and have a good time?

Right?

It is all about growing on a soul level. The adverse conditions are actually the greatest tests to further soul growth. The Law of Free Will gives us complete autonomy to make all decisions; to bravely step into situations that offer chaos but also give us the most spiritual rewards.

If you happen to find yourself in a life that is wonderful and are having a good time, rest assured, you probably had many lives of hardship and strife to come to this point. Experiencing the struggle helps us to become compassionate. The soul learning gets easier as we attain a broader understanding of our evolutionary phase, an understanding and a realization of what is really important. As the soul advancement progresses the need for material things falls away and awareness is placed upon the spiritual. How we treat others, kind deeds and service to mankind become more relevant and important in order to bring us peace and joy within.

Understanding this law places a whole new interpretation on the phrase 'Thy will be done.'

It is each of our will that is being done as we make our own decisions.

It must be pointed out that some decisions are made before entering into physicality. We get to decide what circumstances are needed in order to provide for the learning we wish to experience, or for the teaching of others.

How charged with punishments

I am the captain of my soul."
